Students in Mrs. Strafford's classes have been busy! In careers class students presented in costume their research on a career of their choice and let us know what a day in the life of that career looks like. For science, they attended a trip to Trinity Western University for Science in the Valley learning about chemistry and conducting experiments in a university science lab, and back at home studying conductors and insulators through experimentation.

Ms. Skillings' class have been learning about the life cycle by incubating eggs!

ATS Band students performed at the annual Nights of Music event at the Abbotsford Arts Centre on May 4th. They did a wonderful job and represented our school very well. Congratulations to all the students who were there. You are amazing!

Ms. Chomseng's CLE 10 class had a Guest speaker: A business entrepreneur speaking about her journey from high school student not knowing what to do in university and eventually majoring in business and ending up in marketing, moving to graphic design, to henna business, to henna & tattoo with graphic design business. Students got to volunteer to have henna done and see the intricacies of the presenter's skills and own hand-made henna mix.

Some of our students headed to UFV today with Mr. Van Dyk to participate in the final round of the BC Secondary Schools Math Contest. The goal of the BC Secondary Schools High School Math Contest is to provide interested students (and their teachers) with a chance to have fun and stretch themselves a little mathematically. The students completed a series of challenging math questions and then had lunch and engaged in math based enrichment activities.
