The ATS March Madness of Books Tournament starts Monday! This tournament has some of the most popular books in the library battling it out to see which one is the school's favourite. Students can check out the bracket in the display case by the library to see which books are in the tournament and look for an email on Monday for their chance to vote in the first round – the Sweet Sixteen. Every day next week we'll find out which books advanced and vote again until we have our final 2 battling it out on Thursday. Every day that a student votes they will be entered into a daily prize draw, with multiple winners each day. Plus, on Friday when the winning book is announced, we will also draw a student's name from all the votes cast in the week for our grand prize! Students will get an email every day next week from Mrs. Mallory with a link to the March Madness voting form, so keep an eye on your email and vote for your favourite books for your chance to win!
