Exciting News for ATS Families! Welcoming Celebrity Chef Bruno Feldeisen to Our School Community

Dear Parents,

We're thrilled to announce a special partnership that will enrich the hearts — and appetites — of our entire school community this year!

Chef Bruno Feldeisen — Executive Chef at Semiahmoo Resort, judge on CBC's The Great Canadian Baking Show, and former Executive Pastry Chef at the Four Seasons Hotel Vancouver — will be working with our school throughout the year to help bring food education to life in the most exciting way.

Chef Bruno believes in more than just great meals — he believes in the power of food to connect us all. From seasonal produce to cherished family recipes, he'll be helping our students explore the deep connections between food, community, and culture.

Here's what to look forward to this school year:

- Seasonal Showcases of local ingredients
- Visual storytelling through student-made posters and displays
- Family recipe sharing opportunities
- Farm-to-table connections that support local growers
- Discussions around why what we eat — and where it comes from — matters

"It's all about connecting the dots — from farmers, to chefs, to the guests. Cooking is how I bring people together." — Chef Bruno Feldeisen

Together, we'll help students understand that food isn't just fuel — it's a story, a tradition, and a powerful way to build community.

Watch Chef Bruno in action!

Tune in on Sunday, October 5 at 8PM on CBC to see him bring his signature warmth and creativity to the screen.

We can't wait to share this journey with you — and we hope you'll be part of it by sharing recipes, ideas, and stories that make your family table special.
